MORGAN BUREAU FOR POUNDAGE BURLEY CONTROL

Morgan County Farm Bureau members favor both acreage and poundage controls for burley tobacco production, according to resolutions approved at the annual meeting of the bureau here last Saturday.

The resolutions were drafted from suggestions made at district meetings at Lacy Creek, Dingus, Crockett, Malone, Salem, Mize, Peyton and Blairs Mills. The resolutions will be sent to the annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau in Louisville next month, and the State Bureau will use resolutions from all counties in drafting its resolutions to the American Farm Bureau.

The local bureau made no recommendation on farm price supports. The American Farm Bureau Federation has favored sliding scale price support for several years.

The Morgan County Farm Bureau resolutions follow:

1. Bangs control program.
2. A committee from Farm Bureau, Kiwanis, Women's Clubs, and county teachers to study our tax situation in the county.
3. We favor a committee to have county-wide study made and to zone school facilities and build where necessary.
4. Right to work.

We favor right to work legislation and believe anyone should have this privilege, and will work and seek legislation to make that right possible.

5. We are opposed to price fixing in the so called Fair Trade Acts and will seek legislation which will make Free Trade possible.

Tobacco

Farmers realize that the present tobacco program is not doing for them what they want done. Therefore, in order to try to carry out the objective of Farm Bureau which is to help farmers earn a high net income, we believe the following might help:

1. We favor strict acreage and poundage control.
2. We favor that all tobacco be measured before August 1 and that notices be sent and that destruction be made before destruction.
3. We favor that anyone who has anything to do in administration of the tobacco program be bonded.

4. We favor all tobacco be grown on farm allotted to.
5. We favor stricter control on Red Card tobacco and if possible elimination together.

6. We favor that each person whose name appears on sales sheet be allowed one vote.
7. We favor research be made to seek new uses for tobacco products.

8. We favor markets and realize that the Government is not a market and urge that foreign trade be given all-out try for the surplus tobacco. Markets is what the tobacco farmer needs.
9. We favor a committee be appointed to study the possibility of a market and processing plant for agriculture products in the county.

MORE OIL AND GAS ACTIVITY VIEWED

Harold E. Ekas and associates of Lexington who have leased approximately 1,500 acres of land on the Jephtha Dome near Crockett and plan to drill a number of oil wells there, secured leases on six more farms in that area last week. They filed for record in the clerk's office leases on the farms of Lewis Skaggs, Jerry Skaggs, Martha Day, Martha Williams, Steven Wheeler and Angeline Adkins.

Meanwhile Payne Rice is moving a rig from Magoffin county into Morgan to drill a test well on the Roland Stacy farm opposite Licking River, below the mouth of Elkfork.

Due to a heavy run of advertising, The Courier is unable to publish some news this week. The stories and correspondents' letters will be published next week.

Morgan Farm Woman Wins $5,000 On TV; Try for $10,000 Saturday

It was a big surprise to her when Mrs. Flavel Cecil, Morgan county farmwoman of near Hazel Green, received a long distance telephone call from New York Wednesday of last week inviting her to appear on the "Big Surprise" television program.

And it was a bigger surprise when she won $5,000 before television cameras in New York last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Cecil won the $5,000 for answering correctly five questions at $1,000 each. Many Morgan countyans saw her on television during the "Big Surprise" program. And many more will be watching this Saturday night at 5:30 CST when she appears again to try five more questions at $1,000 apiece.

It all started several weeks ago when Mrs. Cecil filled out a coupon in a magazine and mailed it. She listed herself as a farmer. (She and her son, Charles Edward Cecil, operate a large farm near Hazel Green and have a 40-head herd of purebred Jerseys.)

The telephone call from New York invited her to come by plane to New York to appear on the "Big Surprise" program. She took a plane from Lexington and is a guest at the Essex House in New York City during the television contest.

Being a farm woman, the questions propounded to Mrs. Cecil concerned farming. And she answered the first five. One question was "Name the three major tobacco producing states north of the Mason-Dixon line." Another listed three strains of Jerseys and asked that she name two more strains. A third asked her to name the other Flaves in the Cecil family—and she did. (There were two other Flaves.)

Mrs. Cecil is a former school teacher. And one question asked her which of her many former students "would win her their sternest teacher." She answered, "My son—Charles Edward."

But she missed the sixth question. It was, "Who introduced the Red Bourbon strain of turkeys in Kentucky?"

But she won $5,000 in cash on the first five questions. And on Wednesday of this week she journeyed from New York City to Far Hills, New Jersey to attend a purebred Jersey sale conducted by a famous importer of Jerseys. She phoned home Tuesday she planned to buy another Jersey bull and cow.

The Cecils have the best herd of purebred Jerseys in all of Eastern Kentucky—some of them imported from the Isle of Jersey off the coast of England.

Mrs. Cecil during her stay in New York has been conducted on a tour of the city and has visited St. Patrick's cathedral and many other places of interest.

She will appear again on "The Big Surprise" program at 5:30 Saturday of this week. And she will have a lot of viewers in Morgan county, all hoping she can advance her winnings to $10,000.

2ND POLIO CLINIC SET FOR TUESDAY

The second shots of Salk polio vaccine will be administered to school children at a clinic to be held in the Morgan County high school gym in West Liberty next Tuesday, Oct. 25, commencing at 10 a.m.

Only school children who received their first dose of the vaccine at the clinic last spring will receive the second dose of the vaccine, the County Health Department reports.

Local teachers will administer the vaccine and volunteer workers will assist the health department personnel in conducting the clinic.

County school buses will run their regular routes to transport children from rural areas to the clinic, Supt. Carl Stewart announced.

The West Liberty city council at a recent meeting voted to annex two additional areas—the Bayes section at the eastern outskirts of town and a second area on Wells Hill.

The council on Sept. 16 annexed most of Wells Hill.

The Bayes section to be annexed includes the territory from 800 feet west of KY-72 and thence north to 500 feet beyond Caskey Branch, thence east to include the property of C. C. Elam and Boyd Blair, thence with a line 500 feet south of US 460 to the western end of the public playground.

The second area on Wells Hill annexed includes 500 feet on both sides of the Wells Hill-Licking River road to and including the residence of Austin Hill.

District Meeting Of Woman's Club Is Set

DEMOCRAT RALLY

SANDY HOOK, Ky., Oct. 18 —Judge John A. Keck, who supported Bert T. Combs in the primary, was a principal speaker at a Democratic organizational meeting here Saturday to organize Democratic forces for the Nov. 8 election.

He urged Democrats to vote the straight Democratic ticket, declaring "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. In 1939 when Democrats failed to support Lyter Donaldson in full strength, we lost the governorship but that state office except Charles O'Connell for secretary of state. The only time Democrats lost in Kentucky was when we failed to get out the vote."

"Election of a Republican governor now," Judge Keck said, "would weaken the Democratic organization for the all-important presidential election next year."

Urging his hearers to vote the straight Democratic ticket, Judge Keck declared, "When we look around and note the many improvements and great progress we have made in Elliott county and Kentucky we must remember they were made under Democratic administrations."

Other speakers were Atty. John R. Redwine and Ralph Farney, county campaign chairman, who presided. About 75 attended meeting.

Legislative Committee

Christmas Decor Subject Of Project Leaders Meet
Of Homemakers Clubs

Candies and bells, tinsel and gay wrappings sound like Christmas don't they?

Project leaders from 10 Homemakers clubs in the county met with Home Agent Mrs. Carl Sinclair and the assistant agent, Miss Geraldine Cowan, in the REA building Thursday to learn the art of making Christmas decorations. Candle making was the highlight of the lesson, to be taught by these leaders to their club members in November.

Homemakers are very fortunate to have someone to teach them the Do-It-Yourself method.

During October 277 stools have been seated with Hong Kong grass, and 2,260 flowering bulbs have been distributed by Mrs. Sinclair.

FOOD HANDLERS SCHOOL HERE

The Morgan County Woman's Club will sponsor a Food Service School for lunchroom, restaurant and cafeteria operators and their employees. These classes will be under direction of Morgan County Health Department and will be held at the REA building on Monday, Oct. 24 and will continue through Oct. 28.

Steve Sandlin, Area Sanitarian of the State Department, will be instructor, assisted by Walter Blevins, county sanitarian. Mr. Blevins urges all food handling establishments to make special effort to see that their employees attend.

The Morgan County board of health requests cooperation of all food establishments in attending these classes, this being a requirement of the State and local boards of health. There will be two classes a day, hours 10 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 7 p.m.

Demonstrations, displays, posters and visual aids will be used in the classes.

PRINTING INSTRUCTOR HERE

C. E. Howell, instructor for the new printing school being established as a new department in the Mayo Vocational School in Paintsville, was a visitor at the Courier office Tuesday. The new printing school is being sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association to train printers and linotype operators. Gov. Wetherby granted the school $50,000 from the State's emergency fund to purchase equipment. Applications are now being processed and the school is scheduled to commence operation soon.

Approximately 50 farmers in Clinton county sowed alfalfa in August or September.

BURLEY GRADING DEMONSTRATIONS ON 9 FARMS SET

Arrangements have been made whereby the University of Kentucky will have Walter Raiser, tobacco grader from the Tobacco Branch United States Department of Agriculture, conduct nine stripping and sorting demonstrations of tobacco in Morgan county. The county agent has released this schedule:

Wednesday, Oct. 26—at 9 a.m. at Prichard Caskey's farm at Spaw Creek; at 1:15 p.m., Joe Stacy's farm at Blazer; at 6:45 p.m. (night) at Howard Standard's at Zag.

Thursday, Oct. 27—at 8:30 a.m. at Richard Brown's at Wrigley; at 10:30 a.m. at Grover Wingo's at West Liberty; at 1:15 p.m. at Edgar Holbrook's at Blairs Mills; at 6:45 (night) at Esta Gannell's at Woodsboro.

Friday, Oct. 28—at 9 a.m. at Glenn Lacy's at Grassy Creek; at 2:00 p.m. at Earl Adkins' at Elk Fork.

Mr. Raiser grades tobacco on warehouse floors, and farmers are urged to attend one of the demonstrations nearest them and is welcome to bring a few stalks from his own crop for grading.

At Glenn Lacy's farm, the grader will strip the five varieties grown together and the tobacco demonstration which were observed during tobacco day on his farm.

LOOKS BRIGHTER

The economic situation for burley tobacco looks brighter than at this time a year ago, says the Agricultural Economics Department of the University of Kentucky. The crop is estimated at around 500 million pounds, compared to 467 million pounds in 1954.

A favorable growing season followed by good curing weather produced a crop of high quality, in contrast to a crop of rather poor quality a year ago. Other comments follow:

"After two years of declining cigarette use, the consumption of cigarettes appears to have stabilized or started again to increase. During the fiscal year ended June 30, tax-paid withdrawals of cigarettes declined only 6-8ths of 1 percent from the preceding 12 months. This compares with a decline of 4.6 percent a year earlier. Withdrawals of chewing tobacco also fell by 6-10ths of 1 percent, compared with 5.8 a year earlier. In the first half of 1955 cigarette withdrawals (tax-free and tax-paid) were 2.9 percent larger than in the first half of 1954. They were exceeded only in the first half of 1953 and 1952."

"Thus prospects are for the 1955 use of burley tobacco to be about 530 million pounds or 30 million pounds more than this year's production. As a result, a slight reduction should occur in accumulated stocks, which stood at a total of 1,473,043,000 pounds on July 1, or about 143,000,000 pounds more than on July 1, 1954."

PLANT FOOD PATCH
& HARVEST QUAIL

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources will issue seeds and other planting materials free of charge to landowners who will establish plantings and leave them for wildlife utilization. Japonica lespedeza seedlings, Korean lespedeza seed, amber cane seed, multiflora rose seedlings and tree seedlings are available.

Japonica lespedeza is recommended especially for quail food plots. The plants grow tall enough to provide seed even during deep snows, and much of the seed is held on the plant until late winter. Two tenths of an acre of japonica will provide enough seed to support a quail covey during the late winter period.

Planting materials will be delivered to applicants during January or February for use in the spring, and landowners who desire seeds or plants should apply before December 31. The supply of free planting material will be allotted to the earliest applicants, and late applicants will probably have to purchase their materials.

Landowners in Morgan county who desire plants should contact either David Adams, conservation officer or Berlyn Brown, SCS conservationist.

Either of the above men can advise on the best locations for wildlife plantings, the best species to use, and the proper methods for establishment and care of plants.

Because of changed agricultural practices, food scarcity is probably the chief factor limiting quail numbers in Eastern Kentucky. Most areas have sufficient vegetative cover, but fields that once grew food-producing plants such as ragweed, are now in permanent pasture or else reverting to woodland. Quail can exist only where cover requirements exist, and intelligent use of food plantings can help meet the requirements.

Establishing quail food plantings is a worthy project for sportsmen, who should encourage and assist farmers on this project in every way possible. Most of the plant species recommended will grow on poor soil or waste areas, and most farmers will gladly furnish an area for plantings. Such joint efforts can produce a desirable farmer-sportsman friendship and ensure the town resident of a place where he is permitted to hunt.

Landowners who are interested in managing for maximum wildlife production on an extensive area can request the services of Harold Barber, District Biologist, in formulating a farm wide management plan.

The wildlife habit program is financed under the Pittman-Robertson Act, utilizing a portion of the funds derived from sale of hunting licenses and tax on guns and ammunition.

IN WAR MANEUVERS

AUGSBURG, Germany, Oct. 11 —Army Pfc. Raymond Budd, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Budd, Ezel, Ky., recently participated as an "aggressor" in maneuvers held by units of the 5th Infantry Division in Germany.

Personnel from Budd's unit, the 3d Battalion in the division's 10th Regiment, served as the enemy forces opposing main units in the field exercise.

MAN INDICTED IN TAULBEE DEATH, COURT RECESSES

The Morgan county grand jury returned a wilful murder indictment Wednesday against Henry Adams in the death of Will Press Taulbee, 61, of Grassy Creek, whose body was found Sept. 25 on the highway near the foot of Adele Hill.

A coroner's jury had returned a verdict Taulbee had been run over by a motor vehicle. An investigation by Sheriff Aaron Lykins revealed Taulbee was last seen at the home of Berkeley Nickell when he left in a truck with Adams. Sheriff Lykins later arrested Adams and he had been held to the action of the grand jury under $5,000 bond.

The grand jury is investigating the mysterious death of Jay Roberson, 48, of the Bonny section whose badly decomposed body was found by a ginseng digger last August 29 near the mouth of Blackwater in cliffs in a heavily wooded section. Officers found a large hole in his head and later had his body exhumed for detailed inspection, following which officers took into custody Leonard Roberson, an uncle of the dead man. No indictment had been returned last Thursday.

An indictment charging shooting and wounding with intent to kill was returned against Johnnie Perkins of the Ditney Ridge section for shooting Kash Allen who is paralyzed from the wound and in a veteran's hospital.

Only three jury trials have been heard this week. Arnold Short was given a sentence of $50 fine and 30 days in jail for possessing liquor for resale. Jas. Donald Hopkins of Rockhouse was sentenced to one year in prison for child desertion, and Billie Pence of Rowan county was sentenced to two years in prison on a cold check charge but the sentence was probated.

The armed robbery case against Henry Johnson, transferred from Breathitt county, was continued until next term. The defendant is serving a life term for slaying Chester Cole in the robbery and his attorneys pleaded former jeopardy since the robbery charge grew out of the same offense.

Petit juries were recessed from Wednesday to Monday but the grand jury is still in session. Eighteen indictments had been returned by Wednesday night.

Members of the grand jury are: Henry Clevenger, foreman; Henry Ferguson, Asa Lykins, Rufus Hutchinson, Frank Wheeler, Mart Fyffe, Denzil Elam, Mart Isam, Stanley Bishop, Jerry Skaggs and Mathie Lewis.

Judge John A. Keck named as jury commissioners Ernest Ferguson of Relief, John Patrick of Insko and Fred Chaney of Salein. They will serve one year.

Without the intervention of a jury, the court heard the damage case of Willie Blanton vs. Roy Rice and others Wednesday. The suit for damages grew out of an auto wreck on KY-7 near Wrigley.

FLORESS—

MRS. JOHN ELAM PASSES OCT. 11

FLORESS, Ky., Oct. 17.—(By Nora Easterling)—Mrs. John Elam (Aunt Maggie), one of our oldest citizens, passed away Oct. 11 at the home of her son, Lafe Elam, where she had lived the past year. Funeral services were held at Lacy Creek church by Elders
E. T. Nickell and Arlie Nickell.
Burial was in the Elam cemetery just above her old home place by Potter Funeral Home.

You have left us and gone on.
In death you fell asleep.
But not forgotten by a friend,
Who in mourning for you weep.
A memory of your smiling face
Your gentle hands and strong embrace.
Your words of comfort to me give
Will linger while on earth I live
Then in that happy home on high We'll say no more the sad good bye.

Last Testimony Recorded

The last testimony Elder Dan Lemaster gave at Lacy Creek church was the fourth Sunday night in September. After he gave a reason for his hope in Christ, he advised the attending ministers—Elders Robert Shipley of West Virginia, James P. Le-master of Fairborn, Ohio, Walter Easterling, E. T. Nickell and Ar-lie Nickell—saying, "Don't ever drag any one's name down in the mud, or talk about them. But preach the Gospel of Christ. Go on and preach." 1st Cor. 9:16—

"For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!"

Elder Smith Elam is ill and has been taken to a hospital in Lexington, believed to have appendicitis.

Elder E. T. Nickell went to West Liberty Saturday to have some teeth extracted.

U. G. Easterling has been on the sick list the past week.

James C. Conley got a piece of rusty steel in his eye last Saturday. He went to West Liberty and Dr. Gullett removed the steel from his eyeball. It is about well now.

Earl Lou and Billy Conley helped celebrate Essie Gay Johnson's birthday Oct. 16 by spending Saturday night with her at Cottle.

Mrs. Naomi Conley is spending a week or two with her granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. James P.
Johnson of Cow Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Conley had business in West Liberty Saturday.

School Fair Held

Residents from Honeyman
Holar who attend the fair at Lacy Creek school came home quite proud of themselves. Mrs. Dovey Easterling won a prize for being the oldest one there. Jimmy Conley won for being the youngest one there. Mary Lou Conley had second best cut flower arrangements. Billy Conley won first prize on potatoes which won second prize at West Liberty Fair.

Mrs. Essie Conley won the prize in the husband calling contest.
Deborah Conley didn't win anything, being only 20 months old.
But she hollered louder than anyone when she got home, which was for my entertainment.

Chester Lee and William Clinton Johnson of Cottle are attending school at Lacy Creek and like it just fine. It was reported to me that Chester Lee is earning grade A's in his work this year and Clinton is getting better in speech. "To earn is to work to learn."

Our home town, West Liberty, seemed to be a very busy place as I took a walk through Main street last Tuesday. What I used to call "five minute seats" were unoccupied except two. I suppose their occupants were waiting for something to happen. I dropped down into the Courier office for writing material and received one of the most sincere and nicest compliments on news writing I ever received in my whole life, from the publisher. I hope I can always deserve such a compliment.

When B. E. Whitt made a visit to Lacy Creek, I hope he took notice to the dangerous bridge across Lacy Creek by V. L. Williams' home and will make mention of its needing repair. The school bus makes four trips daily over that bridge. There has been one wreck in a truck there which did some damage to the truck and gave the occupants a ducking. The bridge needs repair and there should be a danger sign near by.

Honeymoon Holar is all aglow with the golden Autumn hue.

Some one said they heard wild geese go over. Could that be the reason Sammie and Billy Pel-frey, the truckers from Pelfrey Branch, are so busy hauling coal.
They have been hauling quite a number of truck loads this week.

Walter Easterling killed 68 squirrels and two groundhogs this past season.

History repeats itself. Twenty years ago Mrs. Bessie Nickell gave you a flower to wear to church Sunday. Essie and Bessie gave me flowers. That would be pretty names for twins.

Mrs. Minnie McClure of Illinois visited a while with Mrs.
Kate Williams, Mrs. U. G. Easter-ling and Mrs. Hattie Oney. She reported she enjoys Floress very much.

The newlyweds, Flim and Esther Kennard, sent us a card saying: "We are enjoying our wedding tour very much. We are in the capital city of Iowa, will go to Michigan for other points of interest." Canceled at Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conley and children and Buster Lemaster attended church at Elkfork Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Milt Sparks. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Caudill and children, their daughter and husband Irene and Jim, Billy Blevins, Sylvia Smith and children. Elder Chas. Frederick's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Cooper, attended church services.

Funeral was Thursday at Lacy
Creek church with Rev. Arlie Nickell officiating.

Burial was in the Lacy Creek cemetery under direction of Potter Funeral Home.

C. K. Stacy Urges Support Of Straight Democratic Ticket

The recent campaign for the democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky between Judge Combs and Governor Chandler was waged with intense heat and fury—many things were said in the heat of the battle, which would have been better for all concerned had they been left unsaid. Passion and prejudice, in my own judgment, even down to the local level, played the larger part in determining the result in that campaign. I supported Judge Combs. I had known him for years. He was an Eastern Kentucky citizen and I know him to be a young man of great ability and sterling character. I honestly and sincerely believe, if elected, he would make for the people of Kentucky a splendid Governor, and on of whom we would all be justly proud. However, in a free election within the Democratic party, a sizeable majority of its members showed clearly by their ballots that Governor Chandler was their choice.

Now, the battle for the nomination is over. I do not believe in a cold war, politically or otherwise. I have, during all of my adult life, believed that the principles of the Democratic party were bigger than any man or group of men in it, and that the putting into effect those principles would result in the most good to the great masses of our people. When I participated in the primary I felt and now feel that I became morally obligated to support its nominees. That is what I would have expected from Governor Chandler's supporters had Judge Combs been the successful candidate.

I lost my first choice for Governor in the primary but that is in the past. In the coming election in November I expect to cast my vote for those Democrats who were fortunate enough to be elected as the nominees of our party. If the Democratic party is to continue to be as it has in the past, a powerful, vital force for the good of our nation, I believe it imperative that we forget our personal ambitions, lay aside our petty differences and loyally support those who, by the members of our party, have been chosen as our candidates.

You've often read or heard references to savings as a "nest egg" for your future. The Treasury Department reminds us that china nest eggs don't grow into chickens, whereas money put into series E savings Bonds can grow for nearly twenty years. And you can count your chickens before they are hatched: the cash values for each six months are guaranteed in advance by Uncle Sam.

ELECTRIC HEAT

... the modern answer
to year-round comfort

Electric heat is clean and odorless. It's the most efficient automatic heat, yet devised—no furnace to fire, no fuel delivery problems. There's a type for every heating job—radiant panels and convection or fan type heaters for installation in the walls or baseboards... ceilings which blanket the entire room with radiant heat.

And for the ultimate in year-round comfort, the Electric Heat Pump provides summer cooling as well as winter heating comfort, all from one compact electrically operated unit.

Whether you're building a home, remodeling, adding a room, or need supplementary heat in that hard to heat space, you should investigate the various electric heating methods. VOTE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

A Democrat who is active in the Primary and loses the candidate he voted for has nothing to gain by crossing over and voting the Republican ticket. Why not think this over carefully. Be a good sport and stand up for your party. If your candidate had won you would have expected those who voted against him to vote for him in the final election. Why not do the same thing yourself.
